WEST POINT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ttle else was going on in town, but the secting of the "Old Dover Association" The town was alive with nany preachers and laymen as visitors and brany people from Richmond and the country around. West Point with bountiful hands, regardless of denomination and church connection, welcomed the association with open hands, hearts and homes, and all had a good time together during this week of perfect seather. Even the fish in the river have behaved well, as thany of the bretisren from the forests have gone out late in the evenings and carly in the mornings and returned with splendid bunches of fish from the rivers around, caught with hooks and lines. Among those from a distance, whom the people in this section have long known and loved, who were gladly welcomed back were Dr. W. Landrum, of Louisville, Ky., and Dr. Bagby, from Liberty, Mo., and A. Barton fludd, missionary to Porto Rica, John Moncure, of Richmond, four years missionary worker in Japan, is also here.
